DISASTERS ON THE LAKE.

BLINDING SNOW STORMS AND WHISTLING WINDS.

Number of Vessels Lost and No Hope for the Missing Crews—The Great Damage Done to the Lake Shipping Interests—Impossible to Estimate the Loss.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 26.—Great damage has been done to the shipping of the upper lake by the gale which has been raging since Sunday. The velocity of the wind on the Detroit river reached sixty miles an hour, with an average of forty miles. The Plymouth and Bradley broke in two off Presque Isle, and the crews were saved by the Portage life-saving crew. Two boats are given up for lost on Lake Huron, the barges Dolphin and Morris, whose lines parted from the propeller Oswegatchie. Several other boats are missing, but it is believed they will report soon.

Nate Stewart, a marine reporter, had a thrilling adventure here. He went out in a small boat to board the propeller Eagen, which was tossing like an eggshell. Stewart's small boat got between the Eagen and consort and was smashed to splinters. He saved himself by jumping overboard.

Specials from Marquette say the schooner George Sherman is a wreck off that point, and the Alva Bradley is on near there. The Lawrence is also probably lost. The wind blew from the northwest forty-five miles an hour, and a blinding snowstorm raged. Large numbers of vessels are weatherbound at the "Soo" and cannot leave until the storm abates.

It is reported that all the men on the Plymouth have been taken off by a life-saving crew. No word has yet come from the Bradley. It is learned that seven vessels have found shelter from the gale back of Grand Island. No doubt is an estimate that the seven are the David Wagstaff, H. J. Webb, St. Lawrence, Reindeer, Corrie and Mahanah, and the new safety relieves great anxiety.

Reports From Cleveland.
CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 26.—The wind storm which has raged on Lake Erie since Sunday has lashed the water into foam. The schooner Zach Chandler, from Ashtabula to E. Canaba, with 1,300 tons of coal, left Sunday morning, and when near here at night lost all her canvas. She drifted on a bar off Noble Station, east of here, and the crew lashed themselves to the rigging. When daylight broke six of them went ashore, but could not pull back to get the captain and others. A life-saving crew after much work saved the remaining ones on the ship. They were numb with the cold and exposure, and were cared for by farmers. The vessel was worth $12,500 and insured for $10,000. She will probably be a total loss.

At Ashtabula the James F. Joy sunk in twenty feet of water. The crew escaped. The schooner was worth $6,000. She was iron ore laden. The loss is put at $30,000, and the insurance at $4,500.

The propeller J. F. Fay and the tug Ruby are wrecked off Erie. Both crews escaped.

From Buffalo.
BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Details of the recent great storm come in slowly, but enough has been received to make it apparent that the damage is very large. The list of accidents, as gathered at the docks and insurance offices, aggregates fifteen, while there are numberless minor mishaps. The loss has not been estimated, but will undoubtedly be large, as several of the wrecks are of large and costly vessels. The loss of life, as far as is known, numbers seven.

A dispatch from Mackinaw this morning says that the storm is still raging there and many vessels have sought shelter in the harbor. It is said to be the worst storm ever experienced in the straits.

A Sault Ste. Marie dispatch says that the passage has been blocked by the grounding of the steam barge George Spencer with consort Tremble and Ironton during yesterday's storm.

Loss of the Propeller Delaware.
CHEROKEE, Mich., Oct. 26.—The propeller Delaware, of the Erie & Western Transportation line, bound down with grain and flour, was caught in Sunday night's terrible storm on Lake Huron and ran ashore near Hammond's bay, fourteen miles below here. She is now in bad shape and will undoubtedly be a total loss. Both anchors are broken, and she is badly raised amidships, and probably broken in two and full of water. Her deck load can be saved and part of the cargo in the hold. She is exposed to east and northerly winds, and is likely to break up completely at the first shift of the winds. The Delaware hails from Erie, is valued at $100,000, and is rated A 1-2.

Steamer Lost and Crew Saved.
COLLINGWOOD, Ont., Oct. 26.—The steamer Campana arrived here this morning, having on board all the crew of the steamer City of Owen Sound which was wrecked near Clapperton Island Lighthouse, during yesterday's gale. The crew all escaped from the wreck in life-boats and had very narrow escapes from being lost. The Owen Sound was built at Owen Sound in 1875 and re-built last spring. She was owned by Smith & Co., of Toronto, and was valued at $20,000.

Probably Fifteen Lives Lost.
G AND HAVEN, Mich., Oct. 26.—The steam barge Argonaut and crew were thought to be lost. She blew signals of distress Sunday, but could not be helped, as she could not get over the outer bar. Her crew is fifteen men.

Bark Sunk and Crew Drowned.
PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont., Oct. 26.—The bark Oriental went down near here yesterday morning. She was bound from Charleston to Toronto with 700 tons of coal, and was in tow of the Scotia. The crew of five have not been heard of since.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—A speaker Randall is sick at Philadelphia. There were a number of inquiries for him at the American hotel yesterday, but to all the clerk announced that the congressman could not leave his home by reason of illness.

A VEILED WOMAN.

A Sensational Report That Lucilla Mabbitt Was Seen at Delphi.

DELPHI, Ind., Oct. 26.—The letter which has been going the rounds of the press in which Governor Gray thoroughly roasts Sheriff Van Gundy for not taking better precautions to protect Amer Green from the lynchers has not yet been received by the sheriff. Mr. Van Gundy has prepared an answer to the one in print, which he will send to the governor in case he officially receives the latter's letter. In it he claims to have heard no intimations of the lynching, as the crime of which Green was accused occurred fifteen miles from Delphi, on the border of the county. He then censures the governor for pardoning one of the leaders of the "Jap Chosen" gang, who was doing time in a penitentiary.

Considerable excitement was occasioned last night by the report that a veiled woman closely resembling Lucilla Mabbitt, the person alleged to have been murdered by Green, was seen to alight from an east bound train Saturday. A trunk from Fort Worth, Tex., followed her on the next train. The town is thronged with people anxiously inquiring if the woman had been seen and if it was really Lucilla Mabbitt. Nothing more has been heard from the veiled woman, and it is probable that the whole thing is a canard.

Burial of Amer Green.

NEWARK, O., Oct. 26.—The body of Amer Green, the noted desperado lynched at Delphi, Ind., for the supposed murder of Lucilla Mabbitt, was brought to this county and buried in the H-brown grave-yard, eight miles from this city, yesterday, beside his sister. Green's mother resides there, and believes the story of her son—that the girl is still alive. There were few mourners at the grave.

Insane in the Pulpit.

MARSHALL, Ill., Oct. 26.—Westfield, this county, was treated to a big sensation Sunday. J. R. Young, the recently appointed Methodist minister, arrived there last week, and while superintending the Sunday school suddenly began to use profane and abusive language and seemed about to demolish the entire gathering. He was promptly secured, as it was seen that he had become a raving maniac. He was at once brought to this city and confined in jail. He sang religious songs during the entire trip, and since his incarceration has made the jail resound with gospel hymns, singing constantly. He is quite a talented young minister, but has been subject to such spells recently. Indeed, he was at one time an inmate of an insane asylum. The cause of his sudden attack was religious excitement.

Fought to a Finish.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Con. Dugan, of Brooklyn, and Frank Steele, of Boston, fought to a finish at West Troy this morning for $500 and the light-weight championship belt of New York. Steele weighed 122 pounds and Dugan 123. For the first eight rounds the fighting was tame. Steele seemed to be in the better condition. Dugan showed signs of weakness in the ninth. The fighting became fierce and the hitting was very heavy in the succeeding rounds, Dugan making a fine recovery. In the fourteenth round Steele got in several heavy blows, and following up Dugan, threw him over a bench and struck him several times while down. The referee got between the men and declared Dugan the winner on a foul.

Supposed to Be a Hoosier Murderer.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 26.—Detective Elliott this morning arrested Simon P. Cooper, alias James Davis, in this city, on the charge of having murdered one Stewart during an election quarrel at Florence, Indiana, in 1884. The accused has been living in Chattanooga two years, and made saloons his headquarters. He applied for a writ of habeas corpus. The case will be heard Saturday. Authorities at Vevay, Ind., have been telegraphed to send a man here to identify the prisoner. Cooper, alias Davis, claims he is innocent of the charge. He is in jail.

James C. Flood Dying.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—James C. Flood, the bonanza king, is reported to be at death's door. He has not yet recovered from the shock incident to the great wheat corner and the Nevada bank troubles. He is a physical wreck. Occasionally he appears to be in fair health, but a relapse speedily follows. He has grown much worse in the last few days, and alarming rumors about his condition are now current. Mr. Flood is now residing with his family in the brown stone mansion on California avenue.

Got the Man of Her Choice.

Warren, of Evansville, has been found, and the report that she had been married to another man Saturday night has been confirmed. She was married at a neighbor's house Saturday night to Mr. L. M. Johnson, of Ohio. Her explanation is that Johnson was her choice and that the old folks were wanting to marry her to Mr. Warren against her will.

MANY STARVING MINERS.

THE LEHIGH COAL REGION IN THE MIDST OF A GREAT CONFLICT.

Hundreds of Idle Men Standing Around While Their Families Are Starving—Those Who Are Able Rapidly Leaving for Other Parts—Other Labor News.

HAZELTON, Pa., Oct. 26.—The Lehigh coal region, of which this town of ten thousand inhabitants is the center, is undoubtedly in the midst of one of the greatest conflicts that can take place between capital and labor. Twenty-five thousand men have now been on a strike for nearly two months, because of the refusal of the operators to increase their wages, and there is no likelihood of any settlement. The owners of the mines refuse to receive any committees of the Knights of Labor for a conference. The men are stubborn and determined to hold out.

A visitor to Hazelton yesterday beheld hundreds of idle men standing on the street corners. This town depends principally on the miners for its prosperity. When they had work money was plenty and Hazelton merchants did a prosperous business. Now many of them have decided to refuse their former patrons further credit to save themselves from bankruptcy and ruin. The Knights of Labor convention at Minneapolis, refused to help the strikers, and the money coming in for their relief is a mere trifle compared with what they need. They are on the eve of a severe winter, and from all over the Lehigh region come terrible stories of suffering and impending starvation. The country is barren of wood, and the suffering families have a hard time getting coal since the mines are not working, although millions of tons are buried at their very feet. Some portions of the Lehigh region are entirely deserted and whole rows of miners' cabins are empty.

Miners without families are leaving in droves, and nearly all the Hungarians, Poles and Italians, several thousand in number have disappeared. Those who have large families are unable to leave and are compelled to remain with suffering wives and children.

At Jeddo, on the outskirts of Hazelton, the minister of the primitive Methodist church has resigned, all of his parishioners except a few having left the town. Never was a strike conducted with such unanimity. Not a miner is working at the seventy collieries in the district. It is estimated that operators and men have lost so far $1,000,000, and that by spring over $4,000,000 will have been gone. The 41,000 miners of the Reading Railroad company have been granted the 8 per cent increase, and will not strike.

A blight has fallen over the Lehigh region by reason of the strike, and conservative citizens feel the approach of terrible times, as the strike continues into the cold season, with prospects of a lawless element spreading terror through the region. Through the store-order system and docking of miners' wages, the men have been frightfully robbed, and against this they are also striking. Many of the mines are filling up with water, and old breasts and workings are caving in, owing to the timbering and propping having been so long neglected. The damage already done amounts to $1,000,000. The aspect of affairs is dreary and critical.

HE CAME HOME SICK.

Finney, the Missing Trustee, Tells the Story of His Wanderings.

TIPTON, Ind., Oct. 26.—H. C. Finney, the trustee, who so mysteriously disappeared about ten days ago, has returned, and is lying at his residence in a precarious condition. He tells a strange story of himself. He says that on the Friday night when last seen in Indianapolis, instead of coming home he went to the English hotel and remained there until the next morning, and started for the depot to come home. When he reached the depot he was so much worse that he gave some one money to purchase him a ticket for home, and at that point his recollection, he says, fails him.

When he regained consciousness he was at a little station in the northern part of Illinois. As soon as he ascertained his location he had himself placed on a train for Indianapolis, and thence he came home. During his absence the firm of which he was a member has made an assignment, and he comes home to find himself out of business, and a suspecting community watching his every movement. It is said that he will no longer look after the business of the office, but that G. H. Gifford, one of his bondsmen, will manage it for him. His condition is still critical, but ultimate recovery probable.

Blinky Morgan's Trial.

RAVENNA, O., Oct. 26.—As the "Blinky" Morgan murder trial progresses the excitement here increases. Reports from surrounding cities state that notorious and desperate crooks from all over the country are crowding about here, and it is feared some attempt will be made to free Morgan and Coughlin and Robinson, his alleged accomplices in the Hulligan murder. The recent kissing of Morgan by the Cleveland woman has provoked much discussion, and yesterday the sheriff received a letter from Canton, signed by "One that wants no more blood shed," saying: "Have your eyes open when that woman and 'Blinky' kiss each other. They are only waiting." A rumor was issued that there should be no more kissing. The guard around the court house and jail has been doubled, and it is thought Governor Foraker will be asked for a company of militia.

Saw Mill Burned to the Ground.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—The saw mill and planing mill of Mr. C. C. Loomis, situated about three miles north of Little Rock, Ark., on the Iron Mountain railroad, at Loomis station, was consumed by fire last night. The cause was fire in the woods, and so fierce were the flames and so rapid their advance that Mr. Loomis and his men were compelled to seek safety in flight. Six pitched and dry were the woods around the mill that the flames ran through the tops of the trees, devouring everything in their way. About $150,000 worth of fine lumber was destroyed, with all the buildings about them.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

A Mercantile Crash at Cincinnati—Bankers Fail at Boston.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—The first heavy failure recorded in Cincinnati for several weeks occurred when a deed of assignment was filed by W. J. & J. H. Fye, wholesale grocers at 26 and 28 East Pearl street. The firm made W. L. Granger assignee. Their debts are fully $35,000 and their assets $30,000. Preferences were given to two creditors only by chattel mortgages as follows: Metropolitan National bank, $7,534.16; J. W. Fye, $7,540.

W. J. Fye, senior member of the firm, said: "Recent heavy losses in bad accounts, and inability to borrow money to meet our bills was the only cause of our collapse." Both of the members of the firm are young men, Walter, aged thirty-one, and John, aged twenty-nine. They have been very industrious and attentive to business, and their failure was totally unexpected. It will cause general regret among business men.

Boston Bankers Fail.

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Perkins, Dupree & Co., bankers, No. 40 State street, successors to Charles A. Sweet & Co., have failed. The firm have been "long" of the market. They make no statement.

A member of the firm stated to-day that the liabilities which were all unsecured, would scarcely reach $40,000, while the assets were about $20,000. The direct cause of the failure was the depression in Massachusetts Central and Union Pacific, on which shares the firm was long on margins. It is stated that the creditors will not realize more than 50 cents on the dollar, and there is no prospect of the firm resuming.

Crockery Assignment.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—B. C. Allen & Co., who are in the crockery business at No. 23 Washington street, made a voluntary assignment this morning to Samuel B. Chase. The assets are about $15,000, and the liabilities $10,000.

ANARCHISTS' LAST HOPE.

Their Counsel Telegraphs Discouraging News From Washington.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Moses Solomon, one of the counsel for the Anarchists, telegraphed his clients from Washington last evening that there was little hope that a writ of error would be granted by the supreme court, and that the whole matter would come back to this state to rest with the governor. The seven men held a conference as soon as they were liberated, and seemed to feel more depressed than any time since they were incarcerated. Parsons afterwards admitted to a reporter that Solomon's despatch had almost destroyed their last hope, and they were ready for anything now.

Nina Van Zant was present when the news came.

Spies told her the contents of the message. "Well, if you die," said Nina, "You will not die alone. I will go into the grave with you."

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY, Proprietors.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.

THE DAILY BULLETIN will be delivered to any part of the city at 6 cents a week, or one year for $3.

THE DAILY BULLETIN to any postoffice in the United States, postage prepaid, at twenty-five cents per month or three dollars per year.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, OCT. 26, 1887

The colored children have been shut out of the white schools on Red Oak, in Brown County, Ohio, and confined to their own school there.

DANIEL BOONE, an old citizen of Putnam County, Ind., died at his home last Thursday. He was a grandnephew of the famous Kentucky pioneer.

The statement is made that there was a falling off of 218,000 in the membership of the Knights of Labor the past year. If that is true the party has evidently gone into a decline, and a serious one at that.

Eleven hundred acres of fine timber land in Powell County, was bought not long since for $5,000—about $4.50 an acre. The fellow who buys land at that price, and fine timber land too is making a good investment.

In 1886, the Baptists of Kentucky had ninety-two associations, with 2,117 churches and 208,906 members. There is now a membership of 214,350, a fraction less than one-eighth of the entire population of the State.

All is not harmonious with the Knights of Labor. Thirty-five delegates, representing thirteen States in the recent Minneapolis convention, have declared war against the present organization of the order, and a merry row is brewing.

A stock company is being organized at Covington to build a fine hotel. The sum of $60,000 has already been subscribed. The originators are trying to secure $150,000 for the enterprise. Wonder what Covington would do with a $150,000 hotel, anyhow?

SENATOR FARWELL is one of the lucky men of the country. The three million acres of land the State of Texas gave him some years ago for building the State Capitol at Austin is now said to be worth $15,000,000. It is fenced, and the Senator has 75,000 head of cattle grazing upon it.

The demand for new engines may be taken as an evidence of the good business the railroads are enjoying this season. The Baldwin Locomotive Works report that the business of that establishment was never greater than now, and that they expect to exceed the last year's capacity in 1887 by one hundred locomotives. They are employing 2,700 hands.

THAT noble old Roman, Hon. A. G. Thurman, in speaking of Cleveland the other day said a "more honest, braver and truer man never occupied the Presidential chair." Coming from such a man as ex-Senator Thurman the effect of the above remark can not be estimated, because it is the deliberate opinion of a statesman in whom the people of the country repose the greatest confidence.

Down in Chattanooga, the people know what it takes to boom a city. The Wood Mower and Reaper Company has contracted to remove its entire plant to that city from Springfield, O. In order to secure this enterprise, however, Chattanooga gives eight acres of land and buildings to cost $100,000, and her citizens take $150,000 stock in the company. That's a pretty costly enterprise for Chattanooga, some would say, but not so. The company will add fifteen hundred skilled workmen to the city's population, and pay out $30,000 in wages every week—about $1,500,000 a year.

It is reported that coal is so scarce at Cincinnati that some of the railroads running out of that place are troubled to get fuel for their locomotives. The river is too low to bring down Pittsburgh coal, and they are dependent on the railroads, which are short of cars to haul it, and they are looking in every direction to get coal to supply their daily demand, while on other roads the streams and springs are so low the companies have difficulty in getting water. In Louisville, there is a sufficiency of coal in the railroad yards to last some time, and there is no danger of trouble from this source.

"JOHN SHERMAN is the one big man in the Republican party of Ohio," says the Louisville Times, "and three several times has he been cheated by some mighty small Republicans of that State. In 1876 R. B. Hayes was thrust in front of him, and four years later J. A. Garfield gobbled up what, of right was Sherman's. In 1884 Foster and Foraker betrayed Sherman again, and now they are playing the same game and hope to make Foraker the nominee for President next year. Mr. Sherman showed his teeth at the late Toledo Convention, and cold as he is he can handle a razor on occasion, and it is about time for him to draw it."

A Fair Illustration.

Governor Buckner, in illustrating to a Paducah News reporter as to how his system of referring applications for pardons to the prosecuting attorneys in the cases worked, said: "A case recently came up from Purchase county of a young man who was convicted of forgery. In his application for Executive clemency, it was stated that he was brought to trial when two of his important witnesses were absent. You know that when a witness is absent, in the motion for continuance the affidavit must state what is expected to be proved by such absent witnesses. I referred the case to the Commonwealth's Attorney, and found that it was true, as stated, that the witnesses were absent, but the prosecution had admitted the statement of the defense, and so there was no cause for continuance, and likewise no reason for exercising Executive clemency."

Benevolence of Kentucky Baptists.

The recent Baptist Jubilee at Louisville, held to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of their General Association in Kentucky, brought out some statistics that will prove of interest to all church members. In fifty years Baptists have spent $200,000 in State missions, and aided fifty thousand members. At the last meeting previous to the "Jubilee," the total subscription for work was $26,000, making 20 cents for each white Baptist in Kentucky.

Gifts to educational institutions had been in all about $700,000—to Georgetown, $185,000; to Bethel College, $175,000; to the Theological School, $300,000; to female colleges, $100,000. Drs. Giddings and Campbell had early been active in collecting funds for these schools. Dr. Giddings collected $80,000 for Georgetown alone.

Dr. Sears, in his address, said: "In all, the gifts of the Baptists to church work during the fifty years of the association's existence had not been less than $1,500,000. Considering the growth of the church upon $200,000 giving to missions and the present contributions to that cause, it is fair to assume that the Baptist membership at the close of the next fifty years will be 4,000,000."

Dr. Manly said: "The account given by Dr. Sears failed to include the value of the 1,350 church buildings of the State, most of which had been erected during the fifty years. This would add $3,000,000 to the contributions of Baptists to church work."

"THAT Miss Jones is a nice-looking girl, isn't she?"

"Yes, and she'd be the belle of the town if it wasn't for one thing."

"What's that?"

"She has catarrh so bad that it is unpleasant to be near her. She has tried a dozen things and nothing helps her. I am sorry, for I like her, but that doesn't make it any less disagreeable for one to be around her."

Now if she had used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, there would have been nothing of the kind said, for it will cure catarrh every time.

GUY WEBBER, Frank R. Mores and Lewis A. Leonard, three of the fellows who worked the St. Andrew's Bay Land scheme, have been held in $1,000 bail each by the United States Court at Cincinnati to answer the charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes.

Pithy Points From Washington.

The best argument in favor of prohibition, one which can not be controverted, is this: by taking whiskey out of the community you save hundreds of young men who might otherwise have turned out drunkards, for we all know that drunkards are made in no other way.

Now some will say if they don't get whiskey here they will somewhere else. Well, in the first place, the one who says this does not care how much they get, and is really afraid that they won't get it; and, secondly, it is not always true that they will get it other places.

It is safe to say that whiskey causes the women of our land more trouble than all things else combined. If they had the disposal of it, how quickly it would be made to walk the plank.

We should like to see the sixty-one families whom the Flemingsburg editor says have left that county since prohibition went into effect.

The inference seems to be that they left on account of the scarcity of liquor, and yet in the same article he says there is about as much drunkenness in Flemingsburg as ever.

Now how are we to reconcile the two statements? At all events it seems to us that the county of Fleming can very well afford to lose such population as choose to leave her for such reasons.

Jackets are still very popular, especially those which just fasten at the throat and then open broadly, revealing a trim-fitting vest that is elaborately decorated with beading embroidery, or silk cord ornaments in applique.

A Big Operator's Generosity.

It has become fashionable for some to speak of Wall street men as thoroughly heartless. There is an impression held by many that the men in the financial center of the country are blind to everything and everybody but money. A reporter was chatting with one of the street's biggest operators in his office the other day, when a broker entered and said: "For heaven's sake give me $4,600 immediately. I must have it this minute. I needed $50,000 at noon, and have got all but the $4,600. I know I opposed your election as a member of the stock exchange, and I frankly admit that after your admission I said some mighty nasty things, but forget these personalities and help me. I only want the money for a short time." The big operator remarked in a genial way: "I am glad enough to help you, not only to show you that you went off the handle in fighting me (for what the Lord only knows), but to demonstrate to you that notwithstanding your remarks I feel that I am quite as manly as yourself." Was this a sneer? Perhaps so, but the big operator touched the bell button at his desk and directed that a check for the $4,600 be given to the visitor.—New York Sun.

Supreme Court Decision.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 26.—The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of the Milwaukee Malt Extract company against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad company. The plaintiff sued to compel the railroad company to transport new beer in this state, the company having refused to do so on the ground that it was intoxicating liquor. The court sustains the railroad company.

Nearly a Whole Town Destroyed.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 26.—The town of Spencer, in Roane county, was nearly destroyed by fire Saturday. Twenty-six buildings, including the court house and jail, were burned. Loss about $100,000; insurance small. Several desperate characters were among the prisoners liberated from the jail to save their lives, and all fled.

Gas at Bowling Green, Kentucky.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Oct. 26.—Excitement over the natural gas find, four miles from this city, is very great. A flow of gas was struck last Friday afternoon, after which operations were suspended until this morning, the gas being allowed to burn during that time. An additional five feet were bored, and upon being lighted it was discovered that the flow had doubled, the flames shooting into the air fully sixty feet, and being about ten feet in diameter.

Two Lucky Men.

MILLERSBURG, O., Oct. 26.—Godfrey Ahner, of Killbuck township, has fallen heir to 16,000 marks ($4,000) by the death of his father, near Leipzig, Germany. Also Jacob Scinpe, of this place, has got notice that he will get $1,000 from his father's estate in Switzerland.

DEADWOOD, Dak., Oct. 26.—A slide of rock has occurred on the 160 foot level of the Iron Hill mine, bringing down one of the estimated value of $100,000. A cave happened about two weeks ago revealing very rich ore, but it cannot compare with this. Assays are said to give the return of about $20,000 per ton, and it is thought that a large body exists which will reach that value. A chunk as large as a man's head, which is one mass of horn-silver, so rich that part of it was sawed off for the assay, was brought over from the mine and placed on exhibition in the First National bank.

Guy Webber in Court.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—After the exciting events of the past few days in the United States court the trial of docket cases seems to be a humdrum sort of an affair. Before Judge Sage this morning Guy Webber, of the St. Andrews Bay Land company, indicted for misuse of the mails, was arraigned. He pleaded not guilty, and was released on $1,000 bond, signed by Dennis Kennedy.

Paltry Dollars for Precious Lives.

St. Louis, Oct. 26.—John S. Stevens, the attorney of the Toledo, Peoria & Warsaw railway, with headquarters at Peoria, says the company has up to date settled with the relations or legal representatives of forty of the people who were killed at Chatsworth, and with sixty of those who were injured. The highest amount paid out on death loss was $2,000.

A Constitutional Act.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 26.—The constitutionality of the act passed by last year's legislature, prohibiting the giving away of a prize as a premium with any article of food sold was contested to-day by the Atlantic & Pacific Tea companies. Recorder Gould held that the act was constitutional.

The Eastern farmer who still persists in raising scrub stock can learn a valuable lesson from experience of his Western neighbor. THE new postal law and regulations have gone into effect. Among the important changes the Postmaster General has made in his revision that the public is interested in is that postal cards are now returnable. The section relating to postal cards says they may be forwarded on request, and should be returned to the writer from the office or address when unclaimed.

"A RED-HEADED girl went into a Cincinnati store the other day, expecting that everybody would rush to the door to look for a white horse," says the Bourbon News, "but there was one suave clerk who stood on the burning deck whence all but him had fled, and caught her in the act of shop-lifting. This should be a warning to other clerks who are prone to give away to superstition."

THE costumes to be worn in "The Honeymoon," which is to be given at the opera house to-night, are said to be exceedingly rich and lovely—finer, perhaps, than ever before seen in Maysville. The Gilbert Comedy Company, by whom the comedy drama will be rendered, gave a splendid entertainment last night, and will do all in their power to make this evening's programme an enjoyable one.

Any other words in the bundle will cause it to be rated the same as letters and first-class matter.

Hechinger & Co.

Receiving Their Reward.

Among the passengers on the train due here at 8 o'clock last evening was an excursion party consisting of a happy lot of fifteen youngsters. They were in charge of a pleasant-looking, gray-haired gentleman, and the entire party took passage on the J. H. Hillman for Cincinnati shortly after their arrival here.

It was learned afterwards that the elderly-looking gentleman was J. A. J. Lee, of Owingsville, Bath County. He is President of the Owingsville Echo & Bank, and is one of the wealthy citizens of the place. He takes an active interest in church work, and has charge of a class in one of the Sunday schools. The lady whom he had in charge last night is this class of his, and the present excursion has been looked forward to for the past twelve months. A year ago last Sunday he told them if they would be prompt and regular in their attendance for twelve months he would take them to see the Zoological Garden, and other points of interest at the Queen City. The promise had the desired effect, and the pupils are enjoying themselves at the expense of their kind-hearted teacher.

Robertson-Hook.

The marriage of Miss Lona Hook to Mr. Edward Robertson took place at Sharon Church, Bracken County, this morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. E. E. Bigger officiating. The bridal party left immediately afterwards for Louisville where the honeymoon will be spent.

The bride is a daughter of Charles Hook, one of Bracken's wealthy and influential farmers. She is a granddaughter of the late Isaac Reynolds, of Minerva.

The groom is a son of the late Dr. W. H. Robertson, and is one of Bracken's promising young farmers.

"Queen."

The Gilbert Comedy Company appeared at the opera house last night in "Queen," and scored a decided success. The audience was not as large as the company deserved, but the entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed. Miss Gilbert and Mr. Huntley were called before the curtain several times by applause which greeted the splendid rendition of the characters they assumed. Their support was excellent throughout.

To-night the company will appear in "The Honeymoon," and they deserve a crowded house.

At the recent meeting of the Kentucky Bee-keepers' Society, held at Falmouth, W. O. Pelham, of this city, was chosen Vice President for the ensuing year.
